Annual New York State Notification of Sexual Misconduct Policy

Campus Sexual Assault Student Bill of Rights

The following rights are guaranteed to students by New York State’s “Enough is Enough” law. Please read these carefully. If you have questions, please feel free to talk with your Title IX Coordinator (listed below by campus). The rights listed in the Student Bill of Rights will also be discussed with you and/or provided to you when you disclose or report an incident of sexual misconduct. All students have the right to:

1. Make a report to local law enforcement and/or state police;
2. Have disclosures of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault treated seriously;
3. Make a decision about whether or not to disclose a crime or violation and participate in the judicial or conduct process and/or criminal justice process free from pressure by the institution;
4. Participate in a process that is fair, impartial, and provides adequate notice and a meaningful opportunity to be heard;
5. Be treated with dignity and to receive from the institution courteous, fair, and respectful health care and counseling services, where available;
6. Be free from any suggestion that the reporting individual is at fault when these crimes and violations are committed, or should have acted in a different manner to avoid such crimes or violations;
7. Describe the incident to as few institution representatives as practicable and not be required to unnecessarily repeat a description of the incident;
8. Be protected from retaliation by the institution, any student, the accused and/or the respondent, and/or their friends, family, and acquaintances within the jurisdiction of the institution;
9. Access to at least one level of appeal of a determination;
10. Be accompanied by an advisor of choice who may assist and advise a reporting individual, accused, or respondent throughout the judicial or conduct process including during all meetings and hearings related to such process; and
11. Exercise civil rights and practice of religion without interference by the investigative, criminal justice, or judicial or conduct process of the institution.

Reporting Sexual Misconduct

Any member of the Bryant & Stratton College community who believes he or she has been subjected to sexual misconduct is encouraged to report the incident to the College, local law enforcement and/or the state police and may request that an investigation be conducted. The College encourages reporting sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator at your campus. The report may be made by:

- Students or associates of Bryant & Stratton College, who are covered by this policy who believe they experienced sexual misconduct; or

Confidential Resources

Bryant & Stratton College encourages victims of sexual violence or sexual harassment to talk to someone about what happened so that victims get the support they need, and the College can respond appropriately. The College has designated the individuals listed below as Confidential Resources

While the Confidential Resources generally honor requests for confidentiality, a victim must understand that a request for confidentiality may limit the College’s ability to meaningfully investigate the incident and pursue disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator(s). Although rare, there are times when the Confidential Resource may not be able to honor requests for confidentiality in order to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all students.
